Facts About the University

The largest private university in New Jersey, FDU is an independent, nonsectarian, coeducational, multicampus institution. Founded in 1942, FDU achieved four-year status in 1948 and approval as a university in 1956.

The University offers over 100 undergraduate and graduate degree programs, including doctoral programs in clinical psychology and in school psychology, and an AACSB-accredited business school.

FDU’s Enrollment: Undergraduate students: 6,514; graduate students: 3,550. Students pursue quality career-oriented programs on schedules tailored to their needs -- days, evenings and weekends. Student/faculty Ratio: 14.1 Average Class Size: 18 students.

Campus Locations

New Jersey, USA
- Teaneck, FDU’s Metropolitan Campus, 10 miles West from NY
- Madison, FDU’s College at Florham, 35 miles West

Wroxton, England: 70 miles Northwest from London

Vancouver, Canada: Downtown-Vancouver

Global Education

- The first American university to own and operate an overseas campus (Wroxton College in Oxfordshire, UK).
- The first comprehensive university in the world to require distance learning of its undergraduates.

About the MAS Program

Since January 2006, diplomats and personnel of consulates, United Nations missions and embassies are given the opportunity to earn a Masters Degree in Administrative Science with a concentration in Diplomacy and International Relations through Fairleigh Dickinson University.

This program offers:

- 30 credits in courses relevant to the diplomatic personnel
- Convenient location: Classes in New York City, or online anywhere in the world
- Convenient hours: Classes 2.5 hours, 2 evenings during the week, or anytime online.
- Classes in English.
- Special tuition rate.
- Summer session in our campus in Wroxton College, England

For Information Contact:

MAS Diplomats Program
Petrocelli College
Fairleigh Dickinson University
150 Kotte Place - H-EWC1-01
Hackensack, NJ 07601 USA
www.fdu.edu/puerta

Tel: 201-692-2532
Fax: 201-692-2503
COURSES OF STUDY

Students earn a Certificate in Diplomacy and International Relations when they complete four of the following courses:

MADS 6611: Special Topics: Introduction to Diplomacy and International Relations
Introductory course to principles of Political Thought and their impact in shaping International Relations.

MADS 6605 Principles of Information Systems
This course provides an overview of the role of technology in the information society for the administration of public, private and not-for-profit organizations by presenting an integrated view of administration, information and systems concepts into a unified framework.

MADS 6608 Organizational Communication & Conflict Resolution
Theories and models of communications and communications media; barriers to effective communication and techniques for improving interpersonal, group and organizational communications. Sources of conflict at the individual, group and organizational levels; methods of conflict resolution.

MADS 6615 Global Leadership Leadership
Theories of European and American theoreticians as well as the methods and practices of world organization leaders in government, private and not-for-profit organizations are studied, compared and discussed.

MADS 6622 Global Community Development
The purpose of this course is to introduce the theory and practice of community development and neighborhood development strategies at the Global level.

MADS 6634 Community Threat Assessment & Risk Analysis
An analytic course that is designed for public safety officers, elected officials & business community leaders for developing collaborative approaches to counter-terrorism and other security threats.

MADS 6636 Global Preparedness for Catastrophic Emergencies
This course examines various catastrophic emergencies and responses to such emergencies. Included are the following areas of concentration: emergency management, hazardous risk analysis, social dimensions of disaster, psychology of terrorism, counter-terrorism, weapons of mass destruction, bio-defense mobilization and cyber security.

MADS 6659 Latin America and Globalization
This customized course reviews the past and current world economy and globalization. Topics include: historical relations between Latin America & the US & Europe, revolution as a response to globalization, World Bank & International Monetary Fund (IMF) Projects in Latin America, the future of Latin America products on the international market.

MADS 6666 The New European Map
This course provides students with a comprehensive exploration of the current state of the political environment of Europe through historical background and country by country analysis. Topics include: the European Union, European legal systems, comparative political systems, the fall of communism, European international relations.

MADS 6694 New Challenges of Leadership in a Global Society
The importance of advanced leadership skills will be explored in all areas confronted by the challenges of the global society. Emphasis will be placed on current trends in global communication conflict management and international negotiation. Priority of study on latest trends in each activity will be highlighted.

Mandatory Course:

MADS 6612 Seminar on Strategic Management – Capstone
Strategic Management from the administrator’s perspective: Approaches to formulating strategies that enable public, private & not-for-profit organizations to adapt to changing social, technological, economic and political conditions. Development of long-range organizational strategies. Students should declare for graduation when registering for this course after completion of at least 24 credits.

Schedule

Fall Session:
- September 10 – December 8, 2007
Winter Session:
- January 7 – March 28, 2008
Spring Session:
- April 6 – July 2, 2008
Summer Session (Wroxton):
- July 13 – 20, 2008