<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Course Title:</th>
<th>Radio Broadcast Workshop</th>
<th>Term/Semester/Year:</th>
<th>Every Semester</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Course Catalog Number:</td>
<td>COMM2557.21</td>
<td>Instructor:</td>
<td>Sheffield</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Course Description:
Students get “Hands-On” experience at New York Metro area public radio station WFDU-FM 89.1mhz. Each class provides the opportunity to host and engineer small show segments under the guidance of 40 year radio broadcast professional, Barry Sheffield. State-Of-The-Art equipment is offered along with an extensive music library.

Prerequisites (If any): None

Goals and Objectives:
This course teaches the student how to present themselves on the air as a host of a music and talk radio program. It also gives needed public speaking confidence that can be useful in any field.

Course Topics:
Broadcast equipment. How to approach the radio speaking role, what to say, and how to successfully get the point across.

Text:
None, student will take copious notes.