FAIRLEIGH DICKINSON UNIVERSITY DIVERSITY COUNCIL in conjunction with
The Office of Campus Life and
The Educational Opportunity Fund Program

Presents

Congressman Donald M. Payne
Representative for the 10th Congressional District of New Jersey

Our Place in the Global Village:
Qualities and Values Emerging Leaders Need to Live in this Global Society

March 8, 2010
3:30 P.M.
College at Florham
Hennessy Hall (The Mansion) - Lenfell Hall

Donald M. Payne, a native of Newark, New Jersey, was elected in 1988 as New Jersey’s first African American Congressman. He is a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, where he serves as Chairman of the Subcommittee on Africa and Global Health and as a member of the Subcommittees on the Western Hemisphere and International Organizations, Human Rights and Oversight. He is also a member of the House Committee on Education and Labor. As a leading advocate of education, he has been instrumental in the passage of key legislation, including the establishment of the National Literacy Institute and funding for Pell Grants, Summer Jobs and Student Loans.

For additional information please call 973-443-8566