Q) Why did you choose to get your degree from FDU-Vancouver?
A) My grandmother’s friend who lives in Canada introduced me to FDU-Vancouver. I went to the website and found many benefits of FDU-Vancouver, including small classes and a great location. I also find the idea of attending a new campus exciting because I feel I can be part of a special group of students that have the chance to participate in shaping the environment as it develops.

Q) What is the best part about living in Vancouver, Canada?
A) In high school I had the dream to study abroad. The UK was too expensive and I thought Australia might have too many Vietnamese students because it is close to Vietnam. In the end, I decided on Canada because of its safety and FDU-Vancouver lets me get an American degree. I enjoy being in Vancouver because the weather reminds me of my hometown, which is also a harbor city. I feel very comfortable here and now I like to think of Vancouver as my ‘second hometown’.

Q) What do you like about your classes at FDU-Vancouver?
A) I was in a diploma program in Vietnam but I felt my studies did not challenge me enough. The classes were large and so we did not get a chance to interact with the professors – it was a lecture style of teaching. At FDU-Vancouver, I have the chance to ask my professors questions in class and chat with them after class. They are all very friendly and I am learning a lot with their help. Also, my classmates come from all over the world and I am making a lot of new friends.

Q) Do you have any advice for students coming to FDU in Vancouver?
A) Vietnamese students should study English in Vietnam before coming to Canada and try to take some classes that have international students. This will help you prepare for your experience abroad. When I graduate I plan to go back to my family but some other classmates like Canada and dream about working here after they graduate.
