Dear Governor Corzine,

As a concerned college student, I am asking you to allocate $1 million to keep the New Jersey Knowledge Initiative (NJKI) alive. Access to current full-text scholarly journals is necessary for success in higher education. As a student in higher education I would be adversely affected by the loss of access to hundreds of scholarly journals. Governor Corzine, the NJKI needs to be properly funded so that the wealth of resources that are available are not lost.

Education cuts don’t heal.

Sincerely,
Your name.
