Negotiating Plural Identities and Multiple Locations: The Indian Diaspora in the Era of Globalization

Indian Diaspora Today
26 Million
Source: Gateway House: Indian Council on Global Relations

SPEAKERS:

Dr. Nilufer Bharucha, Professor of English, University of Mumbai, Coordinator for the University of Mumbai’s Indo-Canadian Studies Centre and Project Director at University of Mumbai for the European Union Project on Diasporic Constructions of Home and Belonging, Global Virtual Faculty member, Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Dr. Sridhar Rajeswaran, Dean, Faculty of Arts and Chair, Department of English, University of Kachchh and DAAD Visiting Professor, University of Muenster, Germany, Global Virtual Faculty member, Fairleigh Dickinson University

Dr. Khyati Joshi, Associate Professor of Education, Fairleigh Dickinson University

Join us for a panel discussion on how living in such diasporic spaces today entails living across cultural borders, straddling two or more worlds. Our speakers will also visit whether this kind of multiculturalism and hybridity is multi-directional in the true spirit of globalization, subsumed under the umbrella concept of one world, or if it adheres to the older notions of home and abroad, diaspora and migrations.

Thursday, September 15, 2011
College at Florham Library Orangerie
Fairleigh Dickinson University, Madison, NJ
6:30 p.m. Light Refreshments
7:00 p.m. Presentation

Free and open to the public. Seating is limited. Please RSVP to dcvitan@fdu.edu or 201-692-7161

Brought to you by the Office of Global Learning, Fairleigh Dickinson University www.globaleducation.edu