ALMA MATER

Goodhart-Davis

Praise to thee, O Alma Mater, faithfully we sing,
Hear our joyful voices ringing, Fairleigh Dickinson.
Campus halls, that oft recall us, memories will bring,
Campus lights will ever guide us, when the day is done.

Chorus
Alma Mater, we will cherish each day of the years
We were privileged to spend here, tho’ our parting nears.

AULD LANG SYNE

Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never brought to mind?
Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And days of auld lang syne?
For auld lang syne, my dear,
For auld lang syne.
We'll take a cup of kindness yet,
For auld lang syne.

DEGREE CANDIDATES

Florham Campus degree candidates, see page 10.
Metropolitan Campus degree candidates, see page 18.
Vancouver Campus degree candidates, see page 38.
See page Inside Back Cover for graduates’ seating plan.

Note: An undergraduate student whose cumulative grade point ratio (CGPR) for four years is 3.85 will receive his or her degree summa cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.67, magna cum laude; if the CGPR is 3.33, cum laude. Only weighted grades will be included in computing honors. Only the credits taken at Fairleigh Dickinson University, a minimum of 54 credits, will be used in this evaluation.

Due to time constraints associated with the printing of the programs, the honors listed therein were determined as of the end of the fall semester. The final listing for the commencement period will include those honors earned as of the completion of the spring semester, and diplomas will reflect this achievement.

This program does not represent an official list of certified graduates.
Jeffrey L. Pierson
Doctor of Humane Letters

From Eagle Scout to brigadier general, you have lived a life of distinguished service to your country, state and community. We are proud to recognize you today as an honored son whose career has touched the lives of hundreds of thousands of service men and women — and helped ensure the safety of millions of New Jerseyans.

You already had spent 40 years in the military when you came to Fairleigh Dickinson University in pursuit of your Master of Administrative Science (M.A.S.) — a degree you earned in 2001. Inspired by that experience, you helped FDU foster an innovative partnership with the New Jersey Army National Guard. Recognizing the hardships faced by military personnel who want to pursue their education but are frequently deployed, you made it your personal mission to make undergraduate and graduate degrees more accessible to those who served under you. Your efforts were instrumental in FDU securing not one, but six, federal grants via the Department of Defense to develop online programs to meet the educational needs of those who serve in our military.

Through our partnership with the National Guard Bureau and with your direction, FDU launched its online M.A.S. degree in 2003. Its innovative curriculum enables members of the military to advance their credentials and further protect our nation in such specializations as global security and terrorism studies, emergency management administration and computer security and forensic administration.

You stand as an exemplary role model for our students: You are a highly decorated military leader and public official and a widely respected former professor at our University. By the time you retired from the Army in 2003, you had reached the rank of brigadier general and had tallied more than 42 years of military service, including more than 30 years of federal-technician service. Your last assignment was that of assistant adjutant general-army, Headquarters, New Jersey State Area Command at Fort Dix, where you directed the activities of the Army National Guard.

Your service extended beyond the Army as you served your state and community in many roles, including undersheriff responsible for operations at the Cape May County Sheriff’s Office, superintendent of the National Guard Joint Training Center at Sea Girt and commandant of the New Jersey Youth Challenge Program.

Your alma mater is proud of your commitment to your country and your community. Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Board of Trustees of Fairleigh Dickinson University, the faculty concurring, I hereby confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, with all the rights, privileges and responsibilities thereunto attached, and cause you to be invested with the hood appropriate to that degree.

Dennis F. Strigl
Doctor of Humane Letters

At age 22, you gave up plans to become an airline pilot for the promise of a better-paying job in the “business world.” On a whim, you took a walk down the main street of your hometown of Buffalo, N.Y., filling out applications until fate landed you a job with New York Telephone.

It was the start of a soaring 41-year career that made you one of the most influential figures in the history of the wireless communications industry. You’re credited with launching the nation’s first cellular telephone network, engineering some of the industry’s largest cellular mergers and leading one of the world’s preeminent wireless companies.

Throughout it all, you distinguished yourself with your integrity, straightforwardness and honesty. Your attention to detail is legendary. When it came to big decisions, said one industry leader, “once he made his decision known, you knew he was going to see it through, and it would be done with real professionalism and commitment to quality.”

From your entry-level job in 1968, you moved steadily upward, working at AT&T, Wisconsin Telephone and American Bell before being named president of Ameritech Mobile Communications in 1984. It was there that you led the historic launch of the first mobile phone network in Chicago. Along the way you honed your legendary management skills, earning your M.B.A. from Fairleigh Dickinson University in 1979.

Your leadership skills propelled you to top roles in the industry — as chief operating officer of New Jersey Bell; president and CEO of Bell Atlantic Mobile; and president and CEO of the combined Bell Atlantic Mobile and NYNEX Mobile. In 2000, you brought together the domestic operations of Bell Atlantic, Vodafone AirTouch and GTE to form Verizon Wireless and became the company’s president and CEO. In 2007, you were named president and chief operating officer of Verizon Communications — a position you held until your retirement.

With you at the helm, Verizon’s reputation for network excellence grew. You made national headlines with your bold decision to let customers keep their cell phone numbers when they switched carriers. You put customers first again with your decision to prorate early termination fees — then an industry first.

It is with great pride that your alma mater honors you as both an industry innovator and a valued son. Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Board of Trustees of Fairleigh Dickinson University, the faculty concurring, I hereby confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, with all the rights, privileges and responsibilities thereunto attached, and cause you to be invested with the hood appropriate to that degree.
Katelyn T. Arathoon
Student Pinnacle Award
Metropolitan Campus

Katelyn Arathoon, of Ontario, Canada, will graduate summa cum laude with a Bachelor of Science in biology with a minor in chemistry. She served as captain of the FDU women’s soccer team, was named Woman of the Year for 2016 by the New Jersey Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Woman, was a voting member on the Student Athlete Advisory Committee, a co-president of the Class Gift Committee, the Metropolitan Campus Student Representative on the Alumni Association Board of Governors and a member of the University Honors Program. Athletically, in April 2015, Arathoon was selected to represent FDU and the Northeast Conference at the National Collegiate Athletic Association Leadership Forum in Orlando, Fla. Later that year, she was awarded the FDU Women’s Soccer Team Knight Award. After graduation she plans to continue her education in medical school.

Laura Rodriguez Romero
Student Pinnacle Award
Vancouver Campus

Laura Rodriguez Romero, born in Colombia and educated in El Salvador, will graduate from the International Business Program with a Bachelor of Science in business administration. During her time at the Vancouver Campus, she has been active as a Global Scholar, as a member of the Model United Nations Association where she represented the Vancouver Campus in the World Model United Nations Association in South Korea and as an active member of the Toastmasters Club. After graduation, she hopes to enter the international trade industry by working with an import and export firm in Vancouver. She has plans to attend graduate school for an M.B.A. in international business.

Shi Yang
Student Pinnacle Award
Florham Campus

Shi Yang, from Taiwan and educated in Taiwan, Australia and New Zealand, will graduate with a Bachelor of Arts in three majors — political science, criminology and sociology — in just three years. Yang was very active on campus and served as the president of the Student Government Association, member of the Campus Standards Committee, student leader of the Maxwell Becton College of Arts and Sciences Student Leader Network and an orientation leader for international students. Yang was involved in numerous clubs including the Mock Trial Club and the Campus Life Diversity Committee. Additionally, he held positions in the Office of Global Learning and Office of Campus Life. Yang plans to take a year to explore the world before applying to law school.

Traditionally...

Traditions link the present to the past and the future. In addition to the academic customs exhibited in the Commencement ceremony, Fairleigh Dickinson University has several unique traditions on display today.

At Fairleigh Dickinson, the academic processional includes the bagpipers, a practice dating back to the University’s eighth commencement in 1951. Since then, it has become a tradition at graduation and other ceremonies for the pipers to play.

Other traditions recognize Fairleigh Dickinson University’s global and multicultural background. International flags have become a part of many ceremonies and events. In addition to the singing of the “Alma Mater,” the University has returned to a tradition established by its founder, Peter Sammartino, of having all join in the singing of the time-honored “Auld Lang Syne.”

THE UNIVERSITY
Fairleigh Dickinson University looks back with tremendous pride to the accomplishments achieved and looks ahead to even greater levels of excellence.

Founded in 1942 by Dr. Peter Sammartino and his wife, Sylvia (Sally), Fairleigh Dickinson University has grown into the largest private university in New Jersey. More than 12,000 students from 43 states and 77 other countries are enrolled on FDU's two campuses in New Jersey and its overseas campuses in Wroxton, England, and Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

Beginning as a two-year junior college in Rutherford, today the University offers nearly 100 degree programs at the associate, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral levels. Fairleigh Dickinson University strongly emphasizes an international component to its curriculum and provides its students with a global and multicultural perspective.

The University has consistently been an innovator, adapting to the changing educational demands of the students it serves. Responding to the need for higher education in northern New Jersey, the college expanded to a four-year curricula in 1948.

In 1954, the first graduate program — a master’s degree in business administration — was offered, and Bergen Junior College in Teaneck was purchased as a second campus. In 1956, Fairleigh Dickinson attained university status. One year later, the beautiful 178-acre Vanderbilt-Twombly estate in Florham Park and Madison, New Jersey, was acquired to serve as another campus.

FDU became the first American university to own a campus in England when it acquired Wroxton College from Trinity College, Oxford University. Opened in 1965, Wroxton College offers American students an array of graduate and undergraduate programs as well as an enriching cultural experience. Formerly a 13th-century abbey, Wroxton College is now a beautifully restored and modernized Jacobean mansion.

Recognizing that the student profile on most U.S. campuses is changing dramatically, the University's Anthony J. Petrocelli College of Continuing Studies (originally New College of General and Continuing Studies) was formed in 1998 to provide a unified approach to and enhanced focus on the adult learner and to continue to position FDU as a leader in providing learning opportunities in a strong academic foundation for students of all ages.

Over the years Fairleigh Dickinson University has maintained its commitment to broadening global horizons and fostering greater international understanding. In 2000, the Board of Trustees adopted a newly focused mission for FDU: “Fairleigh Dickinson University is a center of academic excellence dedicated to the preparation of world citizens through global education. The University strives to provide students with the multidisciplinary, intercultural and ethical understandings necessary to participate, lead and prosper in the global marketplace of ideas, commerce and culture.”

In addition to Wroxton College, the University opened its second international campus in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, in fall 2007.

Each of the University campuses has developed a unique character and vitality. The Metropolitan Campus, located in Teaneck, features a university atmosphere with an international perspective attracting nearly equal numbers of graduate and undergraduate students from throughout the United States and around the world. Fairleigh Dickinson's Florham Campus in suburban Madison offers a classical undergraduate and graduate experience for the contemporary world in a small college setting.

The Silberman College of Business is accredited by the prestigious AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business and has been named among the nation’s best by The Princeton Review. Many other programs are also highly ranked. And FDU has been repeatedly recognized as a “Military Friendly® School” by G.I. Jobs magazine.

Fairleigh Dickinson University has enjoyed special partnerships with prominent institutions around the globe. For example, the University has been associated with the United Nations since it was founded in 1945 and has earned special designations with the world body that provide unique learning opportunities for students and faculty.

With the depth and breadth of its faculty and programs, Fairleigh Dickinson University has positioned itself as a quality, comprehensive private university serving the citizens of New Jersey and beyond.

INTERNATIONALLY DIVERSE

In addition to the United States and the U.S. island territories, Fairleigh Dickinson University students hail from a wide cross section of countries including Afghanistan, Algeria, Antigua, Australia, Bahama Islands, Bangladesh, Brazil, Bulgaria, Canada, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cyprus, Dominica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, Estonia, Ethiopia, France, Gambia, Germany, Ghana, Guatemala, Guinea, India, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Jordan, Kazakhstan, Kenya, Kuwait, Libya, Lithuania, Malawi, Malaysia, Mexico, Monaco, Mongolia, Morocco, Myanmar, Nepal, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nigeria, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, Qatar, Russia, Rwanda, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Saudi Arabia, Serbia, South Korea, Spain, Sri Lanka, Taiwan, Thailand, Togo, Trinidad and Tobago, Turkey, Uganda, Ukraine, United Arab Emirates, United Kingdom, Venezuela, Vietnam, Zimbabwe.

CLASS OF 1966

The Fairleigh Dickinson University community is pleased to acknowledge and congratulate members of the class of 1966 as they celebrate a milestone this year — the 50th anniversary of their graduation.

PILLAR SOCIETY

The Pillar Society was instituted to recognize those exceptional individuals who have made extraordinary contributions to the character and quality of the University, its community and culture. Criteria include serving FDU in a non-faculty role for at least 10 years on a level below the rank of vice president. Recipients are invited to participate in the Commencement ceremony procession.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The academic regalia worn by University officials and faculty at today’s Commencement ceremony are infrequently seen outside of formal academic occasions.

The gowns, caps and hoods once were the regular apparel of European university students and faculty during the Middle Ages.

At that time, both faculty and students were considered part of the clergy and were required to don the ecclesiastical dress, roba and caputum, patterned after the habit of the Benedictine Order.

The regalia also served a practical purpose, providing warmth in the unheated stone buildings of most medieval universities.

In the United States, caps and gowns had been in limited use by colleges and universities since Colonial times. It was not until a century later that a widespread student movement resulted in the formal use of the attire at commencement ceremonies.

Faculty members readily accepted the return to a dignified and traditional dress for graduations and soon extended the custom to other formal academic functions.

By 1895, a uniform code for academic dress had been adopted in the United States, and although no formal worldwide standards have ever existed, certain basic and traditional elements are evident in most academic attire.

The Gowns

Participants in academic ceremonies are expected to wear the regalia to which they are entitled by virtue of the highest degree they hold.

Gowns worn by those with bachelor's degrees are distinguished by a semi-stiff yoke, long pleated front, intricate shirring across the shoulders and back and long pointed sleeves open at the wrists. The gown must be worn closed.

Master's degree holders wear a similar gown of either silk or wool with the same yoke effect as the bachelor's degree robe. The master's gown may be worn either open or closed in the front.

The doctor's gown, also worn either open or closed, is usually made of silk and velvet with full and round sleeves open at the wrists. These gowns are distinguished by long velvet panels down the front of the gown and three horizontal velvet sleeve bars, which may be either black or the color distinctive of the academic discipline in which the individual holds the doctoral degree.

Although the color of these gowns is traditionally black, some institutions have adopted robes in their school colors.
The Caps

The most familiar item of academic regalia is the Oxford or mortarboard cap with its distinctive tassel. Explanations of its origin include suggestions that its shape was inspired by the quadrangular Oxford campus or by the actual master workman's mortarboard. Perhaps a more plausible theory is that it was designed flat and about the size of a scholar's book for ease in carrying. Material for most caps varies from serge and broadcloth to rayon and silk, although caps worn by doctoral degree recipients may be of velvet.

The most distinctive feature of the cap is the tassel, which is positioned to hang from the left front quadrant of the cap. The tassel is black for bachelor's and master's degree holders, but gold for Ph.D.s and the primary governing officials of an institution. While the mortarboard cap is used by the vast majority of institutions around the world, some schools have adopted a soft, square-topped cap, but still retain the tassel.

The Hoods

The most distinctive feature of academic attire, the hood lends color and definition to academic ceremonies. Once used as a head covering, a shoulder cape and even a receptacle for collecting alms in medieval times, the hood is now a purely ceremonial black shell of varying sizes and colored borders suspended from the shoulders and worn down the back.

The significance of academic hoods is symbolized in their varying lengths and the colors and thicknesses of their velvet linings and trim. The bachelor's hood, for example, is three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet border. Master's degree recipients wear a hood three-and-a-half feet long with a three-inch border. Doctoral hoods are four feet long and have a five-inch-wide border.

More distinctive, however, are the colors of the hoods' inner linings and outer trim. The colors of the inner lining correspond to the colors of the institution conferring the degree, while the colors of the border designate the academic discipline in which the degree was granted.

THE MACE

The mace, a traditional symbol of authority, is carried in the academic procession by the grand marshal. The Fairleigh Dickinson University mace was presented to the University in 1957 by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Pollak of New York City. It is one of only three maces of its type in the United States and was purchased for the University from Seymour B. Wyler, author of The Book of Sheffield Plate and The Book of Old Silver.

A very rare example of 18th-century Sheffield plate, it was made in 1765 for the Riddell family and bears its crest. A member of that family was an English representative to the Holland town of Duysberg.

THE PRESIDENT’S MEDALLION

Along with the traditional academic regalia and trappings common to colleges and universities throughout the United States, most institutions also possess some unique or distinctive symbol of the presidential office that is conveyed through succeeding administrations. Fairleigh Dickinson University commissioned the design and crafting of a President’s Medallion for the inauguration of Robert H. Donaldson on March 29, 1985.

The President's Medallion is in the form of a hexagonal shield, a variation of the University “Shield of Arms.” In the center of the Medallion is the gold-plated coat of arms. The motto, Fortiter et Suaviter (Bravely and Pleasantly), is engraved above the shield, and around it are engraved the words “Fairleigh Dickinson University 1942.” The gold-plated frame of the Medallion is surmounted by a crest consisting of buildings symbolizing the campuses.

Kurt J. Matzdorf, professor emeritus of gold and silversmithing at the State University of New York, College at New Palz, and internationally known for his ceremonial and religious silver, designed and created the President’s Medallion.
